1. Heard. Already bail application of the accused was rejected and we do not find any change in the circumstances to warrant grant of the bail to the applicant. As regards the medical treatment, the same can be available to the applicant in the jail. The relatives of the applicant can approach the jail authorities in order to get the medical facilities whatever are available within the parameters of the law to the applicant. In that case the jail authorities can take appropriate steps to provide such facilities to the applicant. With these observations, the application for bail is rejected.
